

Faroe Islands, Dec. 2017

Dear Prime Minister,

I urge you to reform the law and guarantee that Sakris Kupila and all transgender people in Finland can have their gender legally recognized without having to comply with requirements, like sterilization, which violate their human rights.

Sakris Kupila has never identified as a woman. Yet the 21-year-old medical student must endure daily discrimination because his identity documents say he is female - the gender he was assigned at birth. He should not have to undergo invasive treatments to be recognized for who he is.

Finland has a reputation for being open-minded and tolerant. It's time its treatment of transgender people lived up to that reputation.

Yours sincerely,

Faroe Islands, Dec. 2017

Dear Prime Minister,

I urge you to reform the law and guarantee that Sakris Kupila and all transgender people in Finland can have their gender legally recognized without having to comply with requirements, like sterilization, which violate their human rights.

Sakris Kupila has never identified as a woman. Yet the 21-year-old medical student must endure daily discrimination because his identity documents say he is female - the gender he was assigned at birth. He should not have to undergo invasive treatments to be recognized for who he is.

Finland has a reputation for being open-minded and tolerant. It's time its treatment of transgender people lived up to that reputation.

Yours sincerely,

